Joe Dubey has given up his job with a Norway Water Co. as fireman will be taking over the Carroll, Johnson Shoe

Co. and is at home on Beal Street.

The heavy rain caused Bird and Tammy to be late for the wedding of Charles G. Blake's daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hill.

Harry A. Paakard of South Portland has been fixing up his cottage on the shore of Little Penesseewassee. It is understood the premises have been let for the season.

Bathing will not be allowed at the public landing and Capt. Mel Sampson has posted signs to that effect. Last season many youngsters abused the privilege of being allowed to bathe in the lake and the result was a fine for each of them.

Profanity and obscene language also proved objectionable to the residents in the vicinity. Capt. Sampson, although long suffering and kindly disposed toward the young people, has stopped all bathing there because of the undignified conduct from a few misdirected youths.

All the returned soldiers are asked to meet at the Norway Opera House, Thursday evening, May 29, between 7.30 and 8 o'clock to make arrangements with J. W.

Nash for Memorial Day.

A fishing party that made a whirlwind trip to South Arm Saturday afternoon included Harry Spiller, Giles Frost, M. A.

Bancroft and Eugene Descoeaux. They returned early in the week with 34 red spots and salmon.

The senior class had an enjoyable trip to Harrison Saturday evening, where they presented their play "The Adventures of Grandpa." Before a large and appreciative audience they cleared about $50.

Professors will go to Poland

Springs to work for the summer as soon as school closes.

lic landing and was overpowered

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hills, Mrs. Wm.

ing of the Order of the Eastern Star at

The ladies of the Universalist church will serve a dinner at Concert Hall,

REPORT UTILITIES BOARD

Accident Causing Mrs. Young's Death

"The careless, the stupid, and the negligent automobile driver must be taught that he cannot with impunity disregard the rights of the railroad company and the public and violate the plain requirements of the law as well as common sense which he and everyone is presumed to know," declares the Public Utilities Commission in a decision rendered in the matter of the accident at Cape's Crossing on the Grand Trunk Railway one and one-half miles east of Oxford station and three miles west of Mechanic Falls

May 10, last, when Mrs. Fred Young of Norway was instantly killed when Grand Trunk freight No. 550, struck a Ford coupe automobile driven by W. W. Jacobs.

"No automobile driver who is guilty of such practices ought to be permitted to retain his license, and thereby continue to be a menace to himself and everyone else with whom he comes in contact," say the commissioners further in their decision.

"It would also seem to be reasonable and proper that such a driver when a fatal accident has occurred through his carelessness or negligence should be presented to the Grand Jury, and if the evidence will warrant it indicted and tried for manslaughter. We know of no other procedure which will, in any efficient way, protect the public, and prevent such unfortunate and unnecessary accidents as the one we are now considering. A copy of this report is being sent to the secretary of State, who has charge of the issuing of automobile licenses and also to attorney general and the county attorney of Oxford County, and attention is called to the foregoing suggestions.

"This commission will be very willing and glad to assist any of these departments in ascertaining the exact facts and circumstances in this case.

"Mr. Jacobs and the other occupants of the automobile were badly shaken up and injured to some extent.

"Coye's Crossing is what is known as a 'safe' crossing. A clear vision of the crossing may be had in all directions for long distances, both from the railroad and from the highway. The highway from Oxford to Mechanic Falls runs along for some distance nearly parallel to and in plain view of the railroad, and crosses the flat at an acute angle.

"The automobile was proceeding towards the crossing in the same direction as the train, and was seen by the engineer when the train was at the whistling post, more than 1,500 feet west of the crossing.

The evidence showed that the crossing whistle was blown at this whistling post, and once or twice more before reaching the crossing, and that the bell was ringing.

When about 150 feet west of the crossing the warning blast of the crossing whistle was sounded, the engineer slack-

BASEBALL

C. J. Co. Making Room 9; Locke's Mills 1

A lively ball game was pulled off at the fair grounds, Saturday afternoon, after the Carroll, Johnson Shoe Co. on the big end of the score. Aside from the first inning when the Norway outfit fell upon L. Emmons, the show was a real game with no chance for a safe score. The Locke's Mills outfit had been from the game several years, and during his first session while warming up, gave Norway the chance to stack up a lead.

They laid away 6 singles and a double which gave 5 earned runs from a total of 6.

After the first drive, the game settled to a close pinch with both teams playing about an even show. Emmons got his arm into a working condition and the shoe makers were unable to hit safely except at rare intervals. They started a light batting rally in the sixth inning, but worked only one lone run across on a scratch and 2 singles.

Locke's Mills secured their only score in the second on a base on balls with the second and nearly by Kimball's single into the right garden. Their 4 hits were widely scattered throughout the contest, and failed to advance but one runner beyond second base. With a hit price and more work, this outfit would make a combination rather difficult for the average village boys to defeat.

The Making Room outfit is to date the leader in the Cobblers' League and have an open challenge to any shoe team in Norway. There are no rangers in the league, and they play the game only for sport and amusement. The score:

PRESIDENT OF BATES COLLEGE

George Colby Chase, president of Bates College died Tuesday morning, after being stricken with heart failure, at the age of 75 years. He had been president of Bates College since 1894.

Pres. Chase was born in Unity March 15, 1844. He worked his way through school and college amid great odds, but won out successfully. He was connected in one way and another with what is now

Bates College, for the past fifty-nine years, succeeding Pres. Cheney as president in 1894.

He married Emma Francette Millett of Norway, June 12, 1872. She died Jan. 4, 1913. Mrs. Chase was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Millett, whose home was the Arthur Robbins' farm on the Hill. President Chase is survived by three daughters and a son, Elizabeth

Chase who is registrar at Bates College, Caroline W. Chase who is identified with the Church of Christ of America with her husband, who is the wife of Gov. Carl E. Miliken, and Prof. Geo.

M. Chase of the faculty at Bates College.

Prof. Chase's summer home is the former Henry C. Reed-place in Millettville.

Mrs. Reed was an aunt of Mrs. Geo. C.

Chase's.

Soldiers' Memorial Considered

The spirit in Ward 8 that materialized into a park and monument for the soldiers and Red Cross nurses, who went into the service from that district, has spread over the town. A proposition is gaining headway for Norway to make this a memorial to all her sons and daughters, who served in a military sen-vice during any part of the war.

No other suitable location for a large monument is available, and it is the general opinion that the park generously conveyed to the town by a quit-claim deed from C. Elmer Russell, would answer the purpose of the memorial.

By local enterprise, so far as can be learned the citizens in Ward 8 so called, are enthusiastic over the broader plan to make the memorial one for every soldier, sailor, nurse or war worker in town.

Bronze tablets carrying forty names cost about $200 each. As the Cobblestone monument now stands, four can be used, and would be needed to include some of the hundred and fifty names.

Owing to the expense of tablets a suggestion has reached the committee, that possibly a granite shaft with the names inscribed there on, would prove a more fitting and lasting tribute to the boys and girls who served in the war.

The monument committee chosen some months since, include Robert Bickford, H. Walter Brown, Charles G. Blake and

Walter S. Chandler. They will consult with prominent citizens deeply interested in the movement, and ask suggestions from all who have the boys to have a

A THOROUGH TEST

One To Convince the Most Skeptical

Norway Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.

Norway residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed attention, I got Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Stone's drug store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess uric acid and in a short time I felt much better."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 9, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I still gladly endorse them as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's when I feel in need of them and always get fine results."

Poultry Thriving

The chicken business in this neighborhood seems to be in a flourishing condition. Mr. Charles Thurlow have about 140 and expect more later. Wardwell has several hundred as usual. Stone's poultry yards are not as full as usual, but have quite a lot. Union and Greenleaf have about 250 chicks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Greenleaf, Mrs. Elmer Vosmus and two children of Auburn took an auto trip to their brother's home in Oxford, Saturday.

W. H. Greenleaf of Oxford is Mr. Delano's assistant this week, carrying the mail on No. 3 route.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thurlow held their wedding reception at the Grange Hall on Otisfield Gore, Thursday evening, May 22. About 175 neighbors and friends were present.

The music was led by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Fox, who introduced the couple to the friends assembled. Ida Stone, pianist. Fred Glover violinist, of Oxford, furnished music for march and the dance which followed. Ice cream and cake was served in the dining room by an efficient corps of waiters. A very pleasant evening was passed and at a late hour the friends bade them good night and wished them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

They were bountifully remembered with useful and valuable gifts including silver, cut glass and china ware, table linen, towels and dollies, also a purse of money. One-half dozen teaspoons—Roxbury Hill.

Willis Ladd of Mexico was tried on a charge of keeping and depositing, and was acquitted.

Ernest Marchand of Mexico was tried on the charge of larceny of tools and other property of the International Paper Co. which were found at his home. As they were not found until some months after they were missed at the mill, it was argued that there had been plenty of time for the person who stole them to sell them to some other person. Marchand was acquitted.

Two verdicts were returned in civil cases. The first was the case of Matthew McLeod vs. L. M. Hodsdon. Hodsdon is a deputy sheriff at Dixfield, and this suit was brought to recover for transporting two trunks of seized liquor from Dixfield to Rumford. Verdict for plaintiff, $1.88.

ALBANY

Anna Cummings went to Lewiston and made her sister, Mrs. Ella Gould, a short visit.

Sad news reached Albany last week of the death of Eldridge Crocker of Bryant Pond. He was formerly an Albany boy. He was the son of Geo. Crocker of North-west Albany. I knew him well as he went there to school five terms when a boy from 12 to 17 years old. He was a very studious scholar. His older brother, Isaac Crocker, also went to school there. He passed away about four months ago. He was well educated and a smart business man at the time of his death. He owned several rubber stores in Massachusetts and Rhode Island and was supposed to be one of the richest men who was raised in the town of Albany. After leaving Albany and going into the store at Massachusetts and Rhode Island, he had his last name changed from Crocker to Crocker and always went by the name of Crocker in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. His mother was a very hard working lady and used to work out doors a good deal in the summer and pick berries and sell them to get the money to send the boys to school. She was the daughter of Joseph Flint of Albany, a sister to Amos and Leonor H. Dexter Flint, also a sister to Mrs. Isaac Flint and Mrs. Justin Sanders.

D. A. Cummings and John Jones went to North Waterford, Saturday.

Two Big Questions

There have been two great questions agitating the people of this little town for the last four weeks—the first question is this: "Is the town of Albany going to hold Memorial exercises at Hunt's Corner this year and have a speaker and a free dinner same as she always has had for the last thirty-five years once in three years, when her turn comes around. About all the town has said we can't furnish a free dinner and pay the speaker for Stoneham did not do it two years ago." Our committee met last week, Wednesday evening, and decided to give a free dinner and set a good example. The war is over. We will excuse Waterford and Stoneham for not having a free dinner for a good many of their good townsmen during the late war.

The next question is the road question, to see whether the citizens of the town of Albany are willing to call on the County commissioner and have the old County road changed, and instead of trying to go up picnic hill to get to the cemetery from Hunt's Corner and either go around the hill or leave the old road near the bridge, at the southeast corner of Abel Andrews' field, and turn to the right and go straight to Woodson Scribner's house and there hit the cemetery road about fifteen rods from the cemetery. Of course those who own lots in the Stoneham or the Grove cemetery, say, "We are not much interested in the cemetery near Hunt's Corner," and those who reside on the west side of this cemetery can get to the cemetery all right either summer or winter.

Last winter when John Wheeler was buried, the road up over picnic hill was drifted so bad that the town had to break a road from Abel Andrews' bridge over to Woodson Scribner's house. A good road all the way from the bridge to the cemetery road just where it is hoped by a good many that our County commissioners will lay out the road, but we shall be willing to abide by the judgment of our County commissioners. Let it go around the hill or go across from the bridge and save one quarter of a mile. It cost the town of Albany over $200.00 to keep that road broke out from Hunt's Corner to the cemetery, one year ago last winter, but we all know that was a bad winter. All we ask for is a road that we can get to the cemetery either summer or winter. It will be remembered by a good many citizens of our town when they were in the cemetery one year ago last June, the funeral was held at the church at Hunt's Corner. All those who came from away came with autos from Vermont, Lewiston, Auburn, Oxford and other places and were obliged to leave their autos at the church and get wagons to get to the cemetery, for no auto could get up picnic hill that day on account of the wind. They had to telephone to the undertaker at Bethel not to collect with his auto, but to take a horse so he came with a pair of horses. Two-thirds of the cemetery lot in the big cemetery is now owned by residents on the east side of the cemetery.

Alfred Leighton has a cider mill only about 40 rods above the cemetery. Last fall more than one-half of the apples were hauled almost down to North Waterford and made into cider at Roy Wardwell's mill, for it cost too much to have apples hauled over picnic hill.

Rev. Mr. Little of Bethel is expected to give the Memorial address Friday. Let every school district in Albany cook victuals and come and bring all of their children and observe the day for probably this will be the last time that we shall ever have a chance to meet any of the old civil war veterans for there are only two or three now living in Albany and only a few living in Stoneham and Waterford. There are only eight of the Albany Civil War Veterans known to be living. They are all out of town, some in the far west and some in Mass., and three in the town of Norway and the World War, when he was out of the sixty members who went into the civil war to serve their country.

HEBRON

W. A. Bartlett, one of the three living veterans of the Civil War, in town, suffered a paralytic shock Thursday afternoon. Mr. Bartlett was looking forward to his usual observance of Memorial Day and was making plans for an active part in the local campaign for an appropriate memorial to the soldiers of both the Civil War and the World War, when he was stricken. His advanced age was eighty-four.

Lawrence Bartlett, Hebron '16, first lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps, spent the week end at the old school, receiving old acquaintances and giving old friends and new short joy rides in his Saxon roadster, though many of them would doubtless have preferred a ride in the airplane which he has so successfully driven over the German lines. Bartlett reports that he has several times lunched with a "classmate, Bernard Hale, vice consul at Swansea, Wales.

Doris Hamlin and Marjorie Buck were week end guests at Sturtevant Home. Both are students at New Haven Institute. This was Miss Buck's first visit to the Academy since her graduation. Miss Hodgdon and Miss Cannell, seniors at Bates College, visited Hebron, Saturday.

The printer occasionally makes an amusing mistake, as in this local: "Mr. Smith spent a week in New York, engaged in business affairs and in visiting friends."
